Some time ago the U. S. Marshal at the grant of this place sent Special Depu. y Marshal at the grant of the Cornishville, Ky, to arrest one Joshua C. Cull, charged with violation of the internal revenue laws. On the internal revenue laws. the internal revenue laws. On the 4th inst., Fogle arrived at Harrodsburg, and there learned that he would meet with resistance in attempting to arrest Cull. On the strength of this information, Fogle summoned Mr. Jas. Roberts, a citizen of Harrodsburg, to assist him in making the arrest. The two left Harrodsburg in the western manufacturing enterprises, and arrived at Cull's tavern, in Cernishville, about 11 o'clock that night. They hitched their horses before Cull's tavern, and dismounted. Roberts went to the back door, and Fogle went to the front door, and knocked several times loudly before he got any response. A voice inside said, "Who in the h—l do you want?"

Fogle then told him he was an officer, and must and would see him. After a little silence, Fogle heard some one shouting, "Don't shoot." and ran around to the corner of the house and saw Roberts running towards him still shouting, "Don't shoot." Cull followed, Roberts fring at him as he ran. Cull then fired two shots at Fegle. Roberts then turned and fired at Call, who fell. Fogle crossed the river, but came back to get his horse, and believing the citizens had been aroused by the firing he left on foot for Harrodsburg, where he arrived on the morning of the 6th inst. The news reached Harrodsburg shortly after that Cull was killed. Roberts learning this fact left Harrodsburg, and went to Lebanon that day. He had scarcely left Harrodsburg before a gang of six or eight mea, from Cornisbville, went there on the hunt of him and Fogle, and Fogle narrowly escaped, for he did not know them, or they him.
